Join in and enjoy what our Ut club has to offer

Do you agree it has been a strange year?

Some good things have happened, like the club interior upgrade with the new carpet squares and colour scheme being widely praised. The new TVs certainly give our members and guests a great picture of the latest in sport and racing.

A special highlight was the Frankton Junction Bowling centennial celebrations. Notable achievements were also registered by other sub-sections and we congratulate those who won titles and gained selection in various teams. Participation is certainly the name of the game.

Many new members have joined because of what we have to offer. Hopes are high they will soon become involved with the various activities that are available.

The successful way we organise and run our raffles have become the envy of our sister clubs. However, we must maintain the overall high standards in order to be able to subsidise our members to their various events. Remember all sub-sections need continued support to carry out their varied programmes so if you can assist in some way, please do.

In spite of the economic downturn and drop off in attendances, our club has survived pretty well. Other clubs have not been so fortunate so if you are planning a trip make sure of their respective opening times etc etc.

We were very fortunate in January when the Waikato Times' headline screamed – 'Firewalls Save Workingmen's Club'... Initial media reports indicated investigators had been unable to determine the cause of the fire that had gutted the Hamilton Asian food supplies shop located right next to our club, but they were sure the firewalls between the two buildings had really done their job.

Fire Service members had been called to the King Street premises about 5am on that Saturday morning and found the building well alight. They managed to quickly douse the blaze and, according to the report, Waikato fire commander, Roy Breeze, said a fire wall helped to prevent the flames from spreading into the Hamilton Workingmen's Club dining room area. Club staff also reacted quickly to the call and confirmed the 15m x 15m building had been gutted and its roof had collapsed. The fire service said big cracks had appeared in the walls and that it had been initially too dangerous to go near the building. The site was blocked off and a security guard placed there to keep unauthorised people away.

Brian Wood, the very capable HWMC duty manager rostered on that day, agreed it had been a close call for the club. "We were very lucky. We received many calls from members to check on the situation and to see if we were still open. Members who came to the club early that day reported the smell of smoke lingered for a couple of hours, but by early afternoon it was virtually all clear."

Several rightly praised the staff, management and hierarchy involved for the sensible way they had reacted and had covered insurance-wise the situation.

It is timely to remind members that being positive, displaying goodwill, showing tolerance, using common sense and decency remain the necessary ingredients for all successful clubs. Over time we will all face situations which test loyalties, friendships and constitutions. There are several ways to react, but we stress you should remember to go through the proper club procedures so that the matter can be handled by the right people at the appropriate time.

It is important to support any staff member who asks for your assistance when he/she needs to enforce the dress codes and/ or the rules re offensive language and visitors you may bring into the club.

Sponsors of various club and sub-section events and our year book advertisers need to be looked after and deserve to be recognised.

All our management and staff aim to make your visits worthwhile. Please assist them in their endeavours.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING - SUNDAY JUNE 10TH, 10AM

Yearbook feature writer TONI HISLOP talks to ... Clair Banton – A Lady who doesn't let the grass grow under her feet

Clair Banton has been the treasurer of the 60-Plus sub-section of the Hamilton Workingmen's Club since April 2003, a busy lady with a penchant for having her account books balanced to the cent at all times. She admits to the fact that she can't sit still, and is never happier than when she is busy organising trips and events for the members of 60-Plus.

Early on in life, Clair quickly learned that the old adage 'first up, best dressed' was absolutely correct. The fifth of nine children in her family, she does not remember ever having new clothes, always hand-me-downs. Footwear was a luxury – she went everywhere barefoot, and on the very rare occasion she did have any shoes, the soles invariably had holes in them.

She comments that her rather threadbare childhood has translated into an adult life of liking nice things around her in her home and personally.

Clair was born in Auckland, the family living in Morningside. She attended Mt Albert Primary School then Grey Lynn Primary. She remembers not only running barefoot to school, but running the five kilometres or so back home at lunchtime, then back to school, then home again after classes. She says she ran everywhere.

The children had to get up very early to help their father clean factory premises before they went to school, and Clair can remember pushing her father's old vehicle down the road in the early hours as her father tried to start it when he had a milk run.

Later she attended Kowhai Intermediate, but did not have secondary education as her father had her leave school the day she turned fifteen, to go out to work and help support the family.

There were no privileges – Clair's father was extremely strict with a Victorian attitude towards his daughters. They were not allowed to wear lipstick until they were eighteen, however Clair tells the story that when she was sixteen and working with her father in an office, she would wear lipstick on the bus going to work, rub it off before she got to the office, put it back on to ride home on the bus, then rub it off again before she got home!

She says that although life was hard, family life was happy and she holds no regrets regarding her "under-privileged" upbringing.

Her job at the office netted her two pounds per week – fifty pence of this went on bus fares, one pound to her mother, and fifty pence went into savings. No handsome wages in those days!

A job in the NZ Post Office in the 1970's taught Clair how to handle money correctly, a skill that has served her well and certainly helps now in her role as 60-Plus treasurer as she handles many thousands of dollars a year for the section.

As part of her role, she researches and organises a yearly twoday bus trip which involves arranging transport, accommodation, visiting clubs for lunches (often these clubs open especially for the visiting group), visits to places of special interest during the trip as well as morning and afternoon tea stops. Clair 'does' the entire trip beforehand, checking out timing and many other details that ensure a smooth trip away.

She also helps the committee organise two 60-Plus luncheons a year at HWMC – the Mid-Winter Luncheon and the Christmas Luncheon, both of which can cater for up to 250 people. Add to that a day bus trip to arrange every six weeks, plus meat raffles for the section every Wednesday – Clair certainly keeps busy and doesn't sit still!

Clair lived in Auckland till 2001 – during this time she was treasurer of the Lionesses Club for ten years. In 1999 she was diagnosed with breast cancer, and after treatment and surgery, made the decision to move to Hamilton to be nearer her daughter.

Her first neighbour was a fellow named Don Evans, and when she mentioned to him one day that she felt at a bit of a loss, he suggested she join the Hamilton Workingmen's Club. Clair said 'oh no, it doesn't sound like me!' However, she was persuaded to play indoor bowls at the club for several weeks to see how she liked it. Her reaction? 'I loved it' she says 'the friendliness of the people was amazing, and the club itself – its size and set-up – blew me away.'

After three weeks she joined up and as the saying goes, has been a mover and shaker there ever since.

Family? Clair has three children, two sons in Auckland as well as her daughter in Hamilton, plus four grandchildren who she is very proud of.

Hobbies? 'Always knitting' says Clair. 'I'll knit anything from men's jumpers to dolls' dresses, the finer and more intricate the better.'

In the past she has played a lot of sport - badminton, squash, netball, outdoor bowls as well as indoor bowls (for which she was also an umpire for a time).

Any ambitions? The big one is to write a book about her father, who she says, was a 'real character', and about her early childhood in a very different Auckland than it is today.

Clair says she feels privileged to have an article about her in the club yearbook. However, the effort she puts into her task as 60-Plus treasurer says a lot about this industrious club member who is always on the go.

Yearbook feature writer TONI HISLOP discovers more about ... THE PEARCES A Family Affair at The Workers

Warren and June Pearce need no introduction at the Hamilton Workingmen's Club.

Together with their family Wendy, Raymond and Sandra, they are achievers with an impressive array of titles – especially on the indoor bowls scene – but also in many other areas of life both in and outside the club.

Where to start? The family's membership of HWMC spans 131 years, with Warren bringing up his 50 years this year –the same number of years he and June have been married.

Indoor bowls - the Pearce family has featured in the Hamilton, Waikato and national scenes. Their achievements go like this -

WARREN:

- won his first Waikato title in the 1970's with Brian Burrett, Pat Ordish and Doug Mace
- 1988: winner of Chartered Clubs' fours with Graham Pedersen, Paul Greene and Dennis Crean
- 1990-93: member of HWMC team that won "Percy" as aggregate winners at the nationals. The team over these years included Neil Rendle, Dennis Crean, Kevin Wood and Malcolm Chandler
- 2000: member of triples runners-up team at the Nationals
- in 1981 he was a member of committee that ran the nationals at HWMC; 1999 saw Warren as convenor of the nationals. In the 2000's he was convenor of the North Island competition, and later for a change of scene drove courtesy vans when the nationals were held at HWMC.

JUNE

- at the inaugural North Island pairs championships, the final was a family affair played off between June and daughter Wendy against daughter Sandra and Allister Comer
- has four Chartered Clubs' Central Area championship titles, won in 1993, 2003, 2004 and 2005
- has been a member of the winning team twice in the Central versus Auckland Areas competition
- has represented HWMC at the Chartered Clubs' Ladies' tournaments 16 times
- was secretary of the HWMC indoor bowls sub-section for 13 years

RAYMOND:

• member of the winning team at the first Charity indoor bowls competition 1978

WARREN PEARCE IN HIS DAYS AS A JOCKEY.

NATIONAL INDOOR BOWLS TRIPLES WINNERS – MONICA KING, JUNE PEARCE, SANDRA PEARCE

SANDRA:

- member of winning team, along with June, at the 1992 Chartered Clubs' national ladies' fours
- skipped the winning triples team at the nationals in 1993 and 1994 both years June was in her team
- runner-up in the first North Island Chartered Clubs' tournament held in 1998 in the pairs event

WENDY:

- runner-up in the 1994 Chartered Clubs' Ladies' nationals singles
- won the pairs in the inaugural North Island Chartered Clubs' tournament with her mother June, defeating Sandra's team in the final.
- runner-up in the 1992 nationals pairs event with Colleen Gerbich

June, Sandra and Wendy were in the HWMC Sportsman of the Year event 1993 - 1994, and the HWMC Sports Team of the Year 1994 - 1995.

Warren is a stalwart of the HWMC cards sub-section, having represented the club at every national euchre and crib championship since 2001 – in 2002 he was runner-up in the plate, and was a member of the team that was runner-up in 2010. He was convenor of the North Island euchre championships held at HWMC in 2008 as well as convening the North Island cribbage championships 2009 through to 2011.

Not content with taking an active role in the indoor bowls and cards sections, Warren's other efforts with HWMC include being a volunteer driver for various conferences and sporting events (he was one of the original club courtesy van drivers when HWMC was located in Harwood Street), been a member of the 60 Plus sub-section for some years, secretary of the Gun sub-section for 5 - 6 years, assisted with wheelchairs and disabled members at 65 Plus annual dinners since the 1980's, helped out at functions for retirement homes, police and firms' social days – oh, and has had the most important role of Santa Claus for many years.

Warren and the late Cliff Thompson started the Charity indoor bowls tournament in 1978, and June was a member of the organising team for some years, holding the position of secretary from 1978 for 4-5 years. She has assisted Warren with his many efforts on behalf of HWMC.

With all their club involvement, one could be forgiven for thinking Warren and June spend every spare moment at HWMC. However, they do have a busy life outside of the club as well.

Warren's big hobby is gardening - he is an avid rose enthusiast (and most of us know how much work they entail!), with around 26 roses all of which have been grown from cuttings. He grows most of his plants from seeds or cuttings, and fruit trees from stones - his black peach tree, grown from stone planted three years ago, has produced its first fruit this year.

He also catered for functions from 1960 till the early 1990's, including large commercial events and weddings.

June and her daughters excel at knitting and sewing, winning many prizes at various shows. Raymond was manager of the NZ Dragon Boat team that won the world championship held in Wellington.

Before Warren and June married, Warren was a jockey. He served his time in the central districts with one long-shot winner at Otaki being the highlight of his early career. When he moved to the Waikato he worked for Harry Long, father of Barry and Murray, for 10 years. He went on to work in the freezing works, then for 30 years was employed at the Waikato Hospital butchery retail outlet. He sat on the Retail Butchers' Appraisal Board for seven years and was a union assessor. June worked at the Cambridge Post Office on leaving school, and has worked at Glenview New World for 15 years.

Asked if there was a highlight in his time as a club member, Warren said 'one of my proudest moments was being nominated by HWMC for the Clubs NZ Sportsman of the Year Award in 2005, then going on to win this prestigious national title.'

He was also quick to point out his family had supported him in all his endeavours so it really has been a family affair at 'The Workers'.

Warren confirmed he had seen many changes at HWMC over his 50 years as a member.

It's probably fair to say he has been involved in many of them.

NORTH ISLAND INDOOR BOWLS PAIRS WINNERS – WENDY AND JUNE PEARCE.

Garth McCormick, our intrepid indoor bowling correspondent, is rightly fiercely proud of his sub-section's outstanding record over many seasons.

While it was hard to repeat the triumphs of 2010, he reports last season's results indicated a good year nonetheless.

After winning all the 2010 Clubs NZ Central Area championships, the Hamilton Workingmen's Club representatives finished runner-up in three of the 2011 events.

Clare Ginnane was runner-up in the singles; Gheorghe Sirbu and Mark Greenwood were second in the pairs; while Peter Stacey, Kathy Gibson and Donna Reynolds were the triples runner-up.

The Central Area Challenge Shield was won by HWMC. Our team comprised Carol Baker, Terry Boyle, Marelie Burt, Lyndsay Crawford, Elizabeth Curran, Kathy Gibson, Peter Stacey and Gheorghe Sirbu.

The Central Area Gloria Hewitt Fours was won by the HWMC team of Terry Boyle, Marelie Burt, John Pollock and Judith Comer.

Again there were other successes in the Central Area tournaments. Whangamata, which attracts large and strong fields, seems to be a happy hunting ground. After the 2010 winning fours team of Relda Middileton, Lyndsay Crawford, Bronwyn and Garth McCormick, last year Gavin Stringer, Peter Stacey, Kathy Gibson and Yvonne Longman finished runner-up in the same event. However, the pairs the previous day produced the best results for HWMC with three teams in the final four. Owen and Carol Baker ran out the winners from Roddy Anderson and Lesley Monk with Lyndsay Crawford and Garth McCormick third equal.

The Clubs NZ North Island championships were hosted by Otorohanga Club where Owen Baker, Roddy Anderson, Lesley Monk and Carol Baker won the fours event. Runner-up in the triples were Owen Baker, Garth McCormick and Carol Baker.

The Clubs NZ men's nationals at Pukekohe and the ladies nationals at Waimea could only produce one result when Owen Baker, Mark Greenwood and Garth McCormick came third in the triples.

HWMC darts players continue to hit top form with two of their top stars, Kit Bennett and John Dodunski, being selected for this year's North Island team.

Club members won the Hamilton Darts Association's premier league, the club 4's, the Firth Cup, the Edith Kilgour Memorial (Shaun Duval and Julian Hughes), ladies pairs (Wendy Duncan and Kit Bennett). Ladies singles (Kit Bennett), men's pairs (Ian Watson and John Dodunski) and men's singles (John Dodunski).

John Dodunski has also registered scoring more than 200 x 180s representing our club and was given a miniature to recognise the occasion. John also scored two x 170 starts during the league.

RESULTS OF THE 2011 HWMC CHAMPIONSHIPS

Personality of the Year: Lloyd Tuck.

Balks Trophy (most consistent player): Nick Harnwell.

Most Improved Player: This much sought-after award went to the vastly experienced Eric Whiting.

Our darts correspondent, Stuart Campbell, said Eric's success was well done and showed 'age did not weary him'. Stuart let it be known he also had high hopes of taking out the coveted prize in the near future.

KIT BENNETT WON THE AREA CHAMPIONSHIP LADIES SINGLES AT WHANGAMATA.

Kit was selected for the Area team to play at the North Island championships at Upper Hutt along with John Dodunski and they played on stage in the final. They were eventually beaten by the current national pairs titleholders from Wainuiomata Memorial RSA.

Shane Duval and Lloyd Tuck did well finishing ninth equal in the men's pairs while John Dodunski did likewise in the singles.

Kit and John were both named in their respective North Island teams to play against the best from the South Island at Blenheim in July this year.

Kit also had the good fortune of drawing the highly promising 18-year-old Jonathon Silcock from Wainuiomata, in the championship fun night drawn pairs and their win meant the major portion of the prizemoney came their way. Kit was also the first lady on our Honours Board to score the maximum 170 start and fully deserved her ranking as the top woman in the country.

The Prince of Wales has scored heavily in the prestige stakes when his support of the 'Save Our Darts' campaign certainly has prevented the demise of the game.

Record support and prime TV coverage of the recent UK tournaments, as well as the inter-club league, have been highlighted by The Daily Telegraph newspaper.

They reminded their massive readership that Prince Charles' comments to hotel publicans and club managers early last year was the key.

Waving a set of darts, Prince Charles told his selected audience at Clarence House: "I'm doing my best to keep the darts tradition going. I'm going to throw the tournament organisers some suggestions I think will work."

Results of a survey had revealed the game was under threat from the rise of the gastropubs and gastroclubs, where leather sofas, 'chatting chairs' and relaxing leaners were more likely to adorn the areas where darts once reigned supreme. Prince Charles was celebrating his Pub/Club is the Hub campaign set up five years ago to save the rural pubs and clubs.

He said at least three pubs a week and a club a month were disappearing in rural Britain. In some areas those figures had doubled.

The Prince, brandishing his darts, said: "It's rather a worry. I was given these the other day and I must say I have become rather good."

His injection of interest saw tournament organisers follow his ideas almost to the letter. They introduced a carnival atmosphere, many more closed circuit TV screens, brighter colours, cheaper food and beverage delivered by much younger staff, and brighter colours to enlighten the usual drab surroundings. The much higher cash prizes drew in the top players and selected teams attracted several betting incentives.

Special TV promoted matches drew huge audiences and winning bettors were paid handsome dividends.

The HWMC card sub-section once again had good attendance over the year.

Publicity officer Kay Lord, in her well presented report, said the section had three players with a 'perfect score' card – Lois Agnew, Jean Scott and Bob Lord.

'Wally of the Day' awards went to three players Jean Scott, Pennie Evans and Don Evans.

Members did well at away tournaments. Betty Weller was third at Rotorua Euchre; Don Evans was sixth at the North Island Euchre at Mangere while Kay Lord was first equal for the Sunday aggregate.

Once again the club held the North Island 500 championships. Winner was Lesley Higham (Weymouth) with Ann Leighton (Hamilton Cosmopolitan) second and Matt Sullivan (HWMC) third. Consolation prize went to Betty Weller (HWMC).

MANY PLAYERS PARTICIPATED IN THE CLUB CHAMPIONSHIPS, WINNERS WERE

Beryl Thornton drawn pairs: G Williams and J Ward.

Jack Bell Open pairs championship: D Giles and J Scott.

Drawn pairs 500: H Kennerley and B Lord.

Don Evans Championship singles: W Pearce.

Drawn pairs cribbage: G Morris and B Weller.

Championship singles euchre: B Lord. The sub-section had a special day of fun and laugher to celebrate Halloween. The card area was decorated and some members dressed up for the hilarious occasion. The sub-section mourned the loss of two members, Rose Evans (96) and Hilda Sexton (92), who passed away during the year.

Members who would enjoy playing Cribbage on Mondays from 1pm to approx 3pm; Euchre on Thursday mornings from 10am to 11.45am approx; 500 on Thursday afternoons from 1pm; are invited to make contact with a committee member or read the section's web page at www.hwmc.co.nz for more details.

Section executive members are – Chairperson: Warren Pearce. Vice chairperson: Pennie Evans. Secretary: Bob Lord. Treasurer: Don Evans. Publicity: Kay Lord. Committee: Elisabeth Karl, Daphne Giles, Joyce Blair, Peter Hammington.

CLUB FACILITIES, SERVICES PRAISED

Our club came through the final V8 weekend a winner!

Members and visitors alike made a point of telling the year book editor just how well our club facilities and services stood up to the test.

One family group from Wellington used the club bus to and from their motel, spent many hours with our members and friends, enjoyed their many meals and bar service and made money at the TAB. It is thought they actually saw some of the car races live.

Special thanks to all members and staff for a great weekend.

Celebrating 100 years of existence at the same location and once again having greens at a standard regarded amongst the best in the regions were features of the Frankton Junction Bowling Club's season.

FJBC president Rob Laird termed the season as being progressive and successful.

"Celebrating the centennial at the same location was certainly recognised as a significant achievement from November 25-27. Many former and current members took the opportunity to participate in the social evening on the Friday, the members' roll-up on Saturday and an open tournament on Sunday. Many tales (some true) were told, old friendships re-visited and a most enjoyable birthday celebration had by all.

"I'm delighted to report our greens after three bad years were brought back to a standard regarded as amongst the best in the region. Our members have continued to achieve a measure of success both within and outside the region and our playing programme is certainly the most comprehensive of all the local clubs. With these things in mind and the somewhat precarious position some clubs find themselves in, our club is very well positioned to become the focal point for the sport of lawn bowls in the Waikato," president Rob said.

Conscientious club captain Ray Mills provided the following results -

'Big Barry' Finds It Easy To Come To Grips With Club Happenings

'Big Barry' Robinson has been an extremely loyal HWMC member ever since he joined in 1979.

His father, widely known as 'Robbie', was a club regular and somehow just knew the affable Barry would enjoy the lifestyle promoted by the club.

"He encouraged me to make new friends, enjoy their company and participate in as many sporting and social events as possible.

"It has been a simple philosophy wife Jan and I have been extremely happy to follow and while there has been a couple of disappointing periods along the way, the many good times we've had far outweigh those minor setbacks."

Golf and 8-ball have been two sub-sections to benefit from Barry's presence. Fishing has been another favourite, but expensive, hobby

"I can really relax and enjoy myself out on the golf course. I have some wonderful memories from trips to many parts of the country. While one visit to Gisborne in 1988, around the time of Cyclone Bola, really stands out, numerous others have been memorable for one thing or another and still get talked about."

Over the years he has represented the golf section seven times at the popular North Island teams championships and said he was keen to make this year's team to Pukekohe.

Barry's notorious axe-handle style (he plays right-handed using a left-hander's grip) has been the subject of many intriguing stories. His hitting ability, especially with his irons, has become wellknown around the traps. Some of his stableford points scoring feats have almost reached legendary status. His regular 'pairings' with his close mate, Tony Batters, always create interest and have developed into a real test of their individual staminas.

A Te Kowhai golfing mate says with enthusiasm he 'loves' being around Barry. "He's so good-natured and fun loving. Nothing seems to phase him, He usually has a smile on his face, always has a simple explanation for a good or bad shot, has great touch for a big man and obviously really enjoys everything that he samples over the 18 holes. Also his powers of recovery are quite remarkable."

The 8-ball sub-section also appeals to Barry. "I try to get involved as much as I can. Like golf, the fellowship means a lot to me.

A fitter-welder by occupation, Barry has been responsible for some outstanding work for his engineering firm. "I take pride in what we have achieved and always welcome the chance to represent the company in Australia from time to time."

He lists his ideal ways to relax as – Golf, fishing, drinking Waikato Draught, listening to the music of Pink Floyd.

Other favourites - Foods: Sea food. Colour: Blue. Number: 20. TV shows: All sports.

Wow! Another busy season for the fishing club with 75 members.

About 15 charter trips this season covered Raglan, Kawhia, Whangamata and Coromandel. The poor weather meant some cancellations, but Garry Shaw deserved the 'well done' comments for his organisation.

Our 'Dry Fishing' weekend at Whangamata was another success. It has became an annual event now thanks to Dave Bryant.

The Christmas function was held at the lifestyle black of Chris and Glenys Gibson. The food menu included rolled roast pork, chickens, roast beef, steamed veggies and all the trimmings.

Our annual Fish City-backed competition at Coromandel was also a great success thanks to all who helped. Several new members took away some great prizes.

Bob A reports on the 'Soprano' trip June 2011, Coromandel -.

Another good trip. Karl was the skipper and the fishing was a bit tough. The Friday night weather was appalling with rain and wind, but Darron and Karl were confident that it was going to happen. On the Saturday it was pouring down, but the wind was less so we headed out. When we could not see the coast we tied up and started to fish. The girls got a good start and it looked like they would take the day. We had four shifts. The fishing was a little slow, but slowly the tally crept up. We had two eels on board (one a monster!). Bob Anderson made the fish of the day (four kg) to move Diane down the ladder.

Many of our club members have rubbed shoulders with the leading lights in sport and racing.

More than 50 years ago Barry Cuff, who became well-known throughout Hamilton because of his plumbing expertise, was also a talented Waikato representative athlete, especially in the 400 and 800 events. He often competed in meets with the likes of the great Peter Snell and company.

"We knocked around together a fair bit in those early days and had a lot of fun. I can remember him starting off with sizeable handicaps before they realised just how good he was. His improvement was rapid and, as everyone knows, he went on to conquer the world."

Barry clearly remembered being involved at Hamilton's Seddon Park (he was second in the 880 yards) the January night in 1962 when Snell warmed-up for his attempt on the mile world record a few days later at Cook's Gardens, Wanganui.

He recalled the carefully groomed grass track looked a picture while the old green wooden grandstand and the adjacent concrete structure at Seddon Park were tightly packed as Snell prepared for his 'international' half-mile event. By the time the 1962 race started more than 6000 had crammed into the ground.

Snell, who soon dropped off the early pace, later wrote in his book, From Olympian to Scientist, about the race – "Suddenly, I realised that (Gary) Philpott had gone off like a bullet and taken three others with him, I woke up rapidly and snapped into action. The race had started on a curve so I waited till we reached the straight before attempting to improve my position. I was surprised at the ease with which I was able to pass the other runners and settle into the trail immediately behind Gary.

"The time at the bell was 52 seconds, far from the easy pace I'd expected. Entering the back straight, Gary accelerated into a three yard lead. I decided that, if I wanted to win (and I did!) I would have to ignore all hopes of an easy run. Just before the final curve, I threw in my challenge, raced up to Gary's shoulder and then moved past. As I did, he suddenly sprawled on the turf.

"My thought flashed back to a similar incident in the Auckland championships and immediately the keenness and competition of the race left me. I must have eased off, because when I glanced back there was John Bork closing up on me at a fast pace . I hurriedly stretched out – it wasn't a sprint – and concentrated over the last 80 yards.

"My time was a shock 1.47.1 for the 880 and an immediate time of 1.46.3 for the 800 metres, exactly equalling my Olympic record. Bork ran 1.48.5 and a newcomer, John Davies, was third in 1.50.7. Davies' reputation at that stage was such that in Auckland a week earlier he had been given a mark of 30yards in a handicap mile with 4m.14s performers. I'd seen him use the handicap to win the race. I'd thought how good he looked, but hadn't realised I was watching the man who was to be my main mile opposition in the very near future. "It must have looked to many as if I had tripped or interfered with Gary in some way and had been the cause of his fall. At least one person said to me afterwards: 'What did you do to him?' When I replied, 'Nothing, I didn't even touch him' he said, unbelievingly, 'Oh, come off it. It looked from here as if you tripped him.'

"Gary's nose-dive must have looked somewhat suspicious and may have accounted for the rather lukewarm reception I was given. A lot of people must have attributed caddish behaviour to me and been disinclined to give me too much credit for what were two very good times."

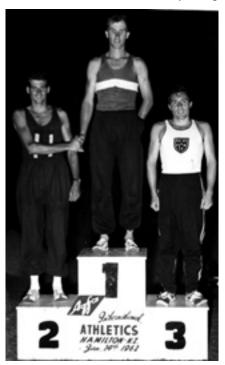

That meeting at Seddon Park was further enlivened by Murray Halberg's two-mile classic against Englishman Bruce Tulloh and two tough Aussies, Dave Power and Alby Thomas. After a languid 4.20 first mile, Halberg accelerated, then Power came up along side then attacked with a lap and a half to run. Halberg came back at the bell and then found Tulloh on his heels. They flew the last lap before Halberg edged ahead to win in 8.33.8.

Note: Three days later at Wanganui Snell ran 3m.54.4s to beat Herb Elliott's world record of 3.54.5.

Great memories, Barry.

His investigative work with the fire service not only tests his skills and knowledge, but also his ability to handle stress and other aspects of life most fortunately never see. He acknowledges visiting the club is an ideal way for him to put his work aside for a time.

"I joined the club in 1996. I attend regularly because the club is the best in Hamilton, has affordable fees and good drink prices.

"My favourite sport and leisure time activities are watching rugby, tennis, riding my Harley, being with friends, watching a good movie, dining out, and listening to music while having a few beers."

He lists building another house and teaching his wife to ride a motorcycle among his major objectives.

Dave enjoys seafood, roast lamb and vegetables, most steak and salads. One vegetable exception is Brussel sprouts

His favourite drinks are beer, rum and Pinot Gris wine while his favourite numbers are 11, 15, 16, 17 and 18

Being a respected barperson at the Hamilton Workingmen's Club in Harwood Street from 1980 to 1994 provided Marianne J Bell with experiences she will never forget.

In more recent times she has taken time out to put pen to paper to record her memories in verse form which certainly enhances the written history of our club for present and future generations to enjoy.

Geoff Lavin was the club manager who employed Marianne in 1980. She remembered the short and sharp interview. "Hi', he said, "you can start Friday." And she did!

Simply titled, 'Harwood St Days', her eloquent prose will bring back names and incidents to our older members.

In order to comply with the current publication regulations and Privacy Act, some of Marianne's lines have had to be deleted and others altered slightly to satisfy the families of those who have now passed on.

Marianne recalled it was continually instilled in her and other staff that our members were -

Someone's partner, someone's parent, someone's child Treat them well at all times You'll never know what a member's life is Until you have stood in their shoes Sometimes it's cruel and harsh out there in the world

We should always endeavour to evaporate those blues

Here's samples of Marianne's work -The first ever barmaid was Mary Then there was dear Merle and Betty Quinn Ah, the club was making progress Women were being accepted – what a win!

For years the favourite topic seemed for oldies all To be when Arthur Grant led PM Walter Nash down the hall But that was cast aside swiftly When Bill and his Boys played tunes of the 50s

Each day began with a search for the Herald The crossword was strategically worked through There were always members to debate About an alternate word or two

As the morning progressed and the pies got warmer Our seniors would come through the door Companionship always worked wonders A wee dram or pint downed with a laugh in store. Some Golden Oldies would often share History of those days when they felt pain Many had survived by the skin of their teeth And sincerely hoped their brave deeds were not in vain

Anzac Day was always significant The club had its war heroes too Rab Campbell will always be remembered For what he personally went through

Some 'characters' one could name Had many a tale or two The staff never tired of hearing 'Who' put one over 'Who'

Some members have notable businesses Of their trades they could be proud We have always had people of achievement Some would shine in any crowd

Remember the excitement of a snooker test Our men always showed they were able When challenged to produce their best To win the major battles on the table

Charity Day was a memorable event Each time members gave of their wares Can you remember the year A Rogerson pony climbed the stairs?

The very best of bowls was often played on this day Great prizes were donated for the cause Members were proud of achievements Especially if they won the charity fours

In the 80s the darts bar had a revamp Upstairs it got named Johnny's Bar Johnny Lyons had been a glazier and a soldier From the war he would write his memoirs

Tommy Haman was a regular to be treasured 'A fresh suit maketh the man' He was Welsh and could sing like an angel That voice needed no backing band What about that massive skeleton of a ship In the Cunningham backyard section The hull stretched from fence to fence We all knew it was built to perfection

Stewie was a hardworking tradesmen Yes, some were jealous of such clever men Who filled their days being productive Our club was their 'winding down' den

Rod Morrison was a valued customer At Horotiu, they called him 'The Bull' Yet always the gentleman in real life Who enjoyed his life to the full

George 'Koby' was a Ready-Mix man In that testy year of eighty-four He did bail out many a member To keep the bailiffs from their door

Thirsty Frankie arrived for a cold beer When he soon came to overhear A car outside needed a push start So he went to help real smart But Frankie soon came to realise The driver was telling lies 'Hey, you dirty swine, That green vehicle is mine!' The villain ran off as one would No explanation to be understood For years Frankie and co wondered Who was that would-be hood !

* Editor's Note: Congratulations to Marianne J Bell for her effort. It was a 'from-the-heart time-consuming exercise' which she completed with skill.

Several sun-hardened surfing 'vets' met in our club earlier this year and soon were encouraged to recall their early experiences at Raglan. It was all unofficial, but a wedding meant they just happened to be at the same place at the same time.

Surfing, along with the televised world motor rally, has really put Raglan on the world stage.

Mention Raglan to 'surfies', especially in Australia or on the west coast of America, and they will tell you, in surprising detail, all about the famous 'Point', the 'long lefts', the 'six-foot curls' etc etc.

Visitors from all over continue to test their skills against the powerful west coast lefthanders which pour through when the tide is high and the wind is either south or south-east. To conquer the waves they need all their agility, dexterity, rhythmical sense, courage and strength.

While the Raglan locals had been well aware of what was on offer for years, Hamiltonians and others took some convincing. It wasn't until a former Waikato champion swimmer, Mike Court, and the likes of Campbell Ross, Peter Miller and Peter Way and their mates started to venture regularly across the deviation in the 1960s and 70s to surf the beach below Bryant Home did the word spread.

History books show surfing got its start in New Zealand in the summer of 1959. Everyone knew each other. The art soon became a way of life. While the real enthusiasts did take on most conditions, there were also many who never took the boards off the car roof racks.

One of Raglan's greatest friends was the well-read Weekly News. Issue after issue carried stories on the thrills and spills that could be had day after day off Whale Bay. Headlines such as 'Great Surf at Raglan' and 'Best Raglan Waves Known Only To Few' introduced top of page articles and pictures to thousands of readers.

Author Doug Hislop, of Auckland, wrote in 1969: "For years Raglan has been the blue riband surfing spot in New Zealand. Since Bruce Brown was there on his 'Endless Summer' odyssey and filmed Robert August and Mike Hynson playing on those long lefts at the 'Point', the international surfing world has looked to Raglan as the top New Zealand surf spot. What is not so well known is that just around the corner at Whale Bay are two more surfing breaks. Both of them break best at low tide and waves are far better shaped than most. For a long time surfers such as Mike Court, Peter Way, Doc Cooper, Curly Pinnegar, Don Wilson, Alan Byrne, Andy McAlpine, Mike Goodlef, Wayne Parkes and one or two others of the Hamilton regulars have been chuckling quietly to themselves as they have driven past the hordes at 'The Point' to surf in the hollow cylinders in solitude just a guarter of a mile away. The most distant of the other two points is aptly named 'Indicators', because the bigger waves breaking there can be seen from 'The Point' and indicate to surfers in the water the presence of a larger incoming wave. Super hollow and as fast as a freight train, the break there is the nearest thing to a Hawaiian wave in the top half of the North Island."

Surfing, an ancient Hawaiian sport, was introduced to Australia and New Zealand just prior to the First World War. However, the sport was slow to catch on and was virtually confined to lifesaving clubs. It received its biggest boost in the late 1950s at Piha Beach when two Americans, Bing Copeland and Rick Stoner, displayed their skills and the locals liked what they saw.

As the surfer improved he demanded a better shaped wave to increase his skill, preferably away from a swimming crowd. It was just a matter of time before Raglan's delights were discovered.

A senior club member, who recently shifted house, found a page of the Waikato Times dated early May, 1945. The main headline read – Glorious Page Written – Merchant's Navy's Part in War – Devotion of Gallant Seamen.

The story read - One of the most glorious pages in the history of the war will be written when the full story of the work of the merchant navy is revealed. An immeasurable debt is owed by the people of the victorious nations to the gallant men who sailed the ships that defied enemy plans to put an end to the ways and means by which the people of the beleaguered Britain were receiving the food and equipment to fight the war.

There were no publicity agents for the men of the merchant navy. Their exploits were not accorded individual mention on a scale comparable with that given the men of the armed forces. Truly it was a silent service in which efficiency was the keynote and in which there was an indomitable spirit that neither the weapons at the disposal of the enemy nor the weather could quench. For many of the unnamed sailors who played their part in paving the way to victory, there came a watery grave. But for their sacrifice a place is at the head of the roll of honour.

At the outbreak of war it was soon apparent that one of the provisions in Germany's scheme of attack would be an allout endeavour to destroy Allied shipping, with an ultimate object of starving Britain out and helping to bring her to ultimate subjection.

One of the first obstacles to be faced was the magnetic mine, a fascinating but sinister device which sent many a laden merchant ship to its doom.

Then there was the lurking U-boat waiting to launch its hurtling missile of death. Only too accurately were they described as packs of wolves intent on their prey. Overhead lay the threat of dive-bombing attack and the scream of machine-gun bullets spattering the exposed bridge became an accompaniment to sudden death.

In spite of the hazards of the open sea, there was never any lack of seamen to take the place of those who had paid the supreme sacrifice and even in the blackest days of the war there was a steady stream of volunteers to play their part in manning the ships.

The risk of death was great, but great also was the desire to show the world that Britain was still the mistress of the seas and that the supplies would get through, despite the forces at the command of the enemy.

Before many weeks had elapsed a counter was found to the magnetic mine. However, in the first seven days of the war more than 100,000 tons of Allied and neutral ships had been sunk. Then the toll decreased rapidly and after three months of war Britain commenced 1940 with a net loss of only 70,000 tons on the total pre-war merchant tonnage of 21,000,000 tons. The capturing of enemy ships and re-building programmes had mitigated the severity of the net loss. Britain's command of the seas was then convincingly demonstrated by the regularity of trade and the enormous success of the convoy system.

Do you know of any Merchant Navy people who are HWMC members ? If so, please contact the Yearbook Editor.

Ned Vujevich and Colin Sarjeant were former enthusiastic club members who shared a passion for trotting.

Many members reading this piece will remember one, if not both, of these real characters who have now, sadly, passed on.

A popular and successful Hamilton fishmonger, Yugoslaviaborn Ned followed several horses which rightly came under close scrutiny from Colin who, in his role as Waikato Times' trotting writer, advised his readers if they were potential winners or not. Because Colin's influential selections usually heavily cut the win dividends, Ned sometimes objected to what Colin had suggested and when they met they usually found time to hotly debate the issue.

Colin admitted he tried to avoid those early confrontations and said while they respected each other's opinion and knowledge of horses, they tried to keep their distance.

But the first appearance of Ned's first horse, Avalon Direct (Scottish Star – Petite Direct gelding) on to the Claudelands training track changed everything.

Avalon Direct was a special gift to Ned from the late Bruce Elliott who had raced a former champion Single Direct.

Over a few well chosen wines late one night, Ned advised Colin of the ownership development and almost immediately their friendship status became cemented. Associates, who had witnessed the turbulent beginnings, were taken aback when the pair became inseparable for about a month. They spent hours together, on and off the track, planning the gelding's future. They watched its every move, Colin, as the professional training track watcher, timed its every run. As they both had a wide circle of friends, lively conversations ensued and many in Hamilton became very aware of Avalon Direct.

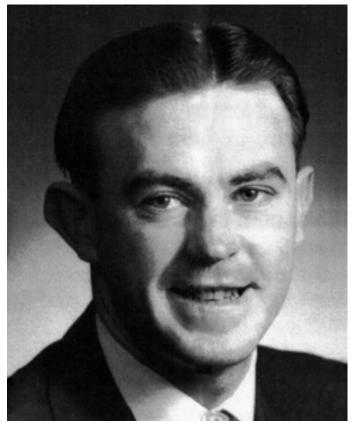

Throughout his career, Avalon Direct became noted for his consistency and in one season was hardly out of place in 23 starts.

Probably the highlight of Avalon Direct's career was qualifying to start in the 1968 Inter-dominion Championships at Alexandra Park. He did not make the final, but his runs against the best around at that time gave Ned a tremendous thrill.

When he retired the-then nine-year-old to a specially reserved paddock, Ned reminded Colin: "I never made a fortune out of his stake winnings and never seriously thought that I would, but I had my share of good wins (seven) and these and the enjoyment that surrounded them accounted for any losses."

Colin, who became very fond of Ned, said when they met up at bowls or at the HWMC, there was a always lot of back-slapping and laughter...and, of course, red wines.

He recalled - "Ned's fishery on the corner of Forest Lake Road at Beerescourt became a legendary meeting place. He had a great family. They always gave you a hearty welcome, provided wellcooked fresh food and that ensured you went back the following week. We shared many marvellous memories." When Colin retired from his insurance and trotting involvements, he took on arranging successful racing and other trips for our club members and sold advertising for the year book. Sadly, that's more than three years ago.

Phill Griffiths - 'the TV man' - looks forward to his regular club visits.

Aspects of club life he enjoys most are the engaging company of other club patrons and the friendliness of the staff.

"Regular companions in our 'school' enjoy the relaxation created as we discuss the day's activities and other pressing matters.

"I am employed by CPC Electronic Services dealing with satellite/ aerial installations, extra televisions and phone outlets etc and so have done work for several club members."

Phill's close associates rate his gardening ability highly. "He's extremely keen and has a special knowledge of cauliflower and cabbage plants amongst other things," one long-time friend explained.

Phill joined the HWMC in 1997 to meet new people. "A major goal in life is to be mortgage-free by 60 years old."

He ranks fishing and playing pool as his favourite sports and leisure time activities.

His other favourites listed are -

Being Smart

It was mealtime on an overseas flight – "Would you like dinner?" the flight attendant asked. "What are my choices?" the passenger asked. "Yes or no," she replied with a smile.

True response - The traffic policeman got out of his car and the teenager he stopped for speeding rolled down his window. "I've been waiting for you all day," the policeman said. The kid replied, "Well, I got here as fast as I could!" Would you believe when the policeman finally stopped laughing he sent the kid on his way without a ticket.

The Multiple Sclerosis Society representatives were 'over the moon' when they received a cheque for $19,000 from HWMC vice president Terry Ryan.

Terry, who was again in charge of the charity week's operations, said the Multiple Sclerosis Society was certainly a very deserving charity and the amount raised in spite of the tough economic times was a tremendous result for all concerned.

"Throughout that October week we sold raffles, mainly meats and hams, and concluded with an auction of donated goods on the Sunday. Energetic auctioneer David Slack ensured it was a fun afternoon and the charity was thrilled at the response from our members and friends.

"Many thanks must go to the raffle co-ordinator, Don Evans, and his helpers who included MS volunteers; office staff, Margaret, Tania and Helen; general manager Richard Shrubsall; assistant manager Paul Leslie; and the bar staff."

Terry praised the sub-sections, cricket, clay target, 60 Plus, cards, darts and golf, who donated money and vouchers.

He said a substantial number of Hamilton businesses donated goods and their names were listed on the television screens throughout the club. He asked members to support those who had helped the charity cause.

Garth McCormick, the charity indoor bowls tournament organiser, and the participants who donated for the raffles, were also applauded for their efforts

Over 65 Christmas

The annual Over 65 Christmas lunch is always a popular occasion. With entertainment being provided by Al Nicholson and Joy Adams, last year's activity on November 28 went down well with members. If you want information about any upcoming club function, just ask at reception.

ELAINE'S DISPLAYSEN'S CLUE BRIGHTENED CLUB

Elaine Thomas' floral displays certainly added plenty of colour to our surroundings.

Her majestic arrangements became a feature of our club's front entrance and she rightly received many wonderful compliments from members and visitors alike.

Elaine's passing, aged 76, was at her home in late July last year and her funeral was held at St David's, West Hamilton Anglican Parish, Rifle Range Rd, on Tuesday, August 2.

She and husband Allen enjoyed their visits to our club. Elaine loved her history and when she talked about life in and around Waihou (near Te Aroha) and Rifle Range Rd, Frankton, she normally had an extra special twinkle in her eye. She was often heard contributing wisely on a wide variety of subjects on late night talkback radio.

Advertising has undergone many rule changes over the years. Allan Hawkey sent us these examples of 'old-fashioned' display ads which would NOT be allowed in today's publications.....

New 60 Plus members are urged to attend the sub-section's June 13 mid-year lunch and the December 10 Christmas function.

60 Plus yearbook correspondent Clair Banton explains -

"We have had another successful year for the sub-section. Membership reached 618 and it would be nice to meet some of our newer members at our mid-year lunch coming up soon and also at our special Christmas lunch.

"The meals and entertainment are always of a high standard so we invite all 60 Plus members to attend these functions and enjoy the occasions and make new friendships.

"The sub-section also sends hearty congratulations to Joyce Cooper, who turned 90 in September; and Olwyn McDonagh, who had her '21st birthday' on February 29. Actually Olwyn did turn 84 and has been very active as a regular at the 60 Plus indoor bowls each Wednesday."

Clair said the organised coach trips once again were well patronised with the three-day trip away to Gisborne. "We proved the long drive through the Waioeka Gorge did call for a drink. The manager of the Matawai Hotel kindly opened up his premises so we could use his facilities and have a nice cool drink. We were told the hotel had never catered for so many ladies at once and they actually ran out of the glasses they usually had kept saved for non-beer drinkers.

"We visited the Gisborne Cidery for ginger beer and cider tasting and many came away with a supply of ginger beer to take home. A visit to Tologa Bay came after lunch on the Monday. Most took the very pleasant walk along the pier which we were told was the longest in New Zealand. The weather was so warm and the sea very calm. It capped off a delightful day as the scenery and the coastal views were magnificent.

Accommodation was at the Captain Cook Motor Lodge. We all enjoyed meeting in the dining area and had lots of fun with plenty of laughs. The trip was long, but everyone had a great time."

Highlights of other trips for the past year included -

- To Rotorua where the Tirau Castle was visited and lunch was at the Citizens Club.
- A train ride from Pakuranga to Britomart and back via another route with lunch at the Manurewa Cosmopolitan Club.
- To Huntly for a fun afternoon with the Taradale Concert Party.
- Two visits to the Te Uku Wind Farm. The first trip was dreadful with rain and mist so heavy that you could only see for about 20 metres. The second trip was the complete opposite with the wonderful views and then seeing the turbines (28 in total) in operation well worth experiencing. We lunched at the Raglan Club
- To Crystal Mountain in Swanson with lunch at the Henderson RSA.

Dawn King once again organised two trips to Mt Maunganui to play indoor bowls and there was a return visit to our club. These trips are also very popular.

The 60 Plus committee decided that they will not be taking names at the AGM for the upcoming three-day trip. Last time more than 60 names were taken and motel bookings and meal venues were arranged. However, by the time the trip was due to be taken more than 30 had pulled out for various reasons which made it very difficult for the organisers as the motel and other arrangements had to be changed several times. Late July will probably be the time to take names.

Death of an Icon

HWMC Yearbook special author JOHN LOVERIDGE researches the battle to save Ward Street's Elm Tree

THE ELM TREE IN ALL ITS GLORY, 18 NOVEMBER, 1982. NOTE THE TIMBER FRAMING SUPPORTING ITS BRANCHES. – WAIKATO TIMES PHOTOGRAPH.

Once upon a time Ward Street was home to a weeping elm tree.

It lived an idyllic existence behind the old Hamilton Railway Station and was a feature of the turning circle that served as a rear entrance to the station from Ward Street.

The story of its sad and controversial demise has similarities to the current removal of the 14-metre high Canary Island palms in Palm Court next to what is now (the entrance off Victoria Street) to what is now Centreplace. The destruction of these 90-year-old signature trees in favour of closed-in retail space development calls into question the commitment of council planners to heritage values.

Thirty years ago, back in 1982, things were a little different. This was the year the elm tree came under threat, but let's first go back to 1920 when the elm was planted in the then gardens of the Hamilton Railway Station that were maintained from 1912 into the 1940s by the Hamilton Beautifying Society.

Formed in 1912 and with many important citizens of the day aboard, the society had the backing of the Hamilton Domain Board and the Hamilton Borough Council who gave it grants of money to cultivate council property as it saw fit. The Beautifying Society changed much of the landscape east and west of the river, including Frankton, creating reserves, establishing rose gardens and planting street trees. Modern records of their work seem no longer to exist, but it almost certain the society planted the Ward Street elm and the Canary Island palms. Elms as street trees were popular at the time, not just for their attractive foliage, but because they could withstand savage pruning and recovery times were quick. The specimen in Ward Street was considered to be the finest in the district, although it was not rated among the country's best.

When the elm was planted, Ward Street was already fully established. Formed in its present state in 1904 the street featured a range of businesses including bakers, grocers, butchers, photographers, real estate agents, pram makers, printers and agricultural suppliers – all accommodated in a street of both single and double-storey wooden shops with wide verandas. Many of these early 20th century businesses survived the depression years, but not a single shop would survive the redevelopment of the land after the 1960s.

In 1964 the railway went underground, ending a one million one hundred thousand pound five year project funded by the National Roads Board, the Railways Department and the Hamilton City Council. Old railway buildings gradually came down and the rails and sleepers were carted off elsewhere.

The above ground Hamilton Railway Station was closed immediately as an underground platform, with openings on to Ward Street was brought into use. In 1968 the station building, minus its verandas, was relocated to Waikato University for use as a common room. Extended in 1974 it currently serves as a café.

About two hectares of railway land, bordered by Victoria, Anglesea, Bryce and Ward Streets, then became vacant to leave a prime piece of real estate in the heart of the city ready for redevelopment. The general outlines of a plan for railway land development were agreed in discussions between the Railways Department and City Council held in 1969 with both parties wanting a planned development of the entire block rather that fragmented subdivision.

In the meantime, the removal of rail infrastructure and demolition of many timber buildings north of the new underground track opened up the area for public car parking. The first major redevelopment of the area occurred in 1968 when Pollock and Milne, said to be the first specialist fabric store in the country, relocated from the Railway Buildings to their new modern building behind their old shops. The P & M Plaza had three shop entrances and featured an upstairs tearoom that overlooked Ward Street, a pond and a bridge to and from the new public car park.

Construction of the Government Life building, a controversial project because it closed off a proposed Barton Street to Alexandra Street link, was completed in 1979.

Through the 1970s both sides of Ward Street changed rapidly with both local council and private developments, but through it all the elm tree remained undisturbed as a green oasis amidst central city redevelopment.

In 1982 the Railways Corporation called for tenders from interested parties and a development license was granted to Hamilton-based Property Makers (NZ) Ltd for a $4.5 million project, the first stage of which would be a multi-level car parking building (the city's first) to straddle the underground railway, followed by shops and offices with provision for some open space landscaping.

Right from the start it was the developer's intention to remove the elm to make way for the car parking development but public outrage was both immediate and vociferous. No less than four petitions were circulated to stop the removal and gardening expert Eion Scarrow led a protest rally in Garden Place calling on the City Council to keep the tree where it was.

A 'flustered' Ross Jansen, Mayor of Hamilton, stated it was never his council's intention to shift the tree, but if it remained where it was there would be no car parking building.

The public would have none of it. In short time the main 'Save the Elm' petition gathered over 10,000 signatures – the largest number of names collected in such a short time in the history of Hamilton. City councillors were approached to back the stand of petitioners and the campaign was given further weight with the support of Hamilton West MP Michael Minogue, Waikato MP Simon Upton and Environment Minister Ian Shearer.

A Property Makers spokesman admitted that such adverse public reaction had not been expected, but indicated development was 'imminent' and that plans to move the tree to a new position at the developer's expense were accurate.

A director of the Hamilton council's Recreation and Welfare Department stated it would take two years to prepare the tree for removal and that 'it would not survive being shifted in the near future'.

In the end the tree was saved as the result of an emotionallycharged Hamilton City Council meeting held late in 1983. The company revised its plans and the 550 space car park building was constructed around the elm.

Yet unaccountably, even as the protest had been raging, vandals attacked the elm with a hatchet, severing bark from around 80 per cent of the tree, leaving only 20 per cent of it to carry food to the branches. Experts agreed that the tree would recover and later reports said it was 'healing nicely'.

However, by June, 1985, it had become apparent the elm was dying due to a number of factors including the ring barking attempt, successive dry summers, a lack of natural water supply at the site and just plain old age. The city council's maintenance controller stated the tree could survive on stored food for another summer, but death was inevitable within a year.

Property Makers' principal David Braithwaite expressed disappointment that the tree was dying considering the carpark building had been redesigned to accommodate it.

The end came on 27 June, 1985, when contractors for the developers removed all trace of it. The tree's remains were placed in storage by Property Makers with Mr Braithwaite stating he was not going to let it rot away.

It was hoped the Waikato Woodcarvers' Association would make use of the wood, but a personal offer by its president to buy the wood was turned down.

When he recalled the many thousands of people who would have had fond memories of the elm over the 60 plus years it had grown in Ward Street, Hamilton councillor Ted Armstrong proposed an inter-denominational service be held in its honour.

After all these years since the great elm street controversy, many may no longer recall its calming presence in the commercial heart of Hamilton. Or that it lived so long because through periods of recession, war, growth and prosperity, public affection for its grace and charm never wavered.

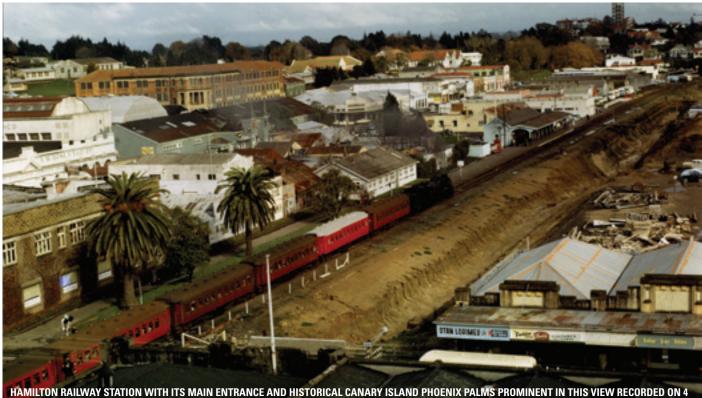

Note: Did you attend the proposed service for the much-loved elm? If so, please contact the Yearbook Editor.).

GOLFERS SHOW STYLE IN QUEENSTOWN

CLIVE MASTERS JACK SPOINT

Clive Wilcox provided the major talking point of the HWMC golf section's April weekend flying visit to Queenstown.

Clive shot a tremendous round of 75 gross for 45 stableford points at the highly regarded Jack's Point course on the Saturday afternoon. He followed that excellent score up with a further 32 points at Millbrook on the Sunday morning to win the overall combined prize by five points.

Sub-section chairman Mike Foote was full of praise for Clive's effort and the trip overall.

"We found the presence of the V8's a good reason to get out of town and so 26 of us spent the weekend in Queenstown. Our weekend began early with an additional round at the Aviation course by the Auckland Airport. Then it was up at 5am to catch a flight to Queenstown. Jack's Point was played on the Saturday with Millbrook the Sunday venue. We had time for a quick beer before we caught the afternoon flight back to Auckland.

"We arrived back in Hamilton around 8.30pm with no sign of the V8 traffic."

Mike said the sub-section had plans for a two-night visit to Tauranga in July.

"Our other major event, besides the normal monthly tournaments and our Christmas special, will be the North Island championships hosted by the Pukekohe club and played at Onewhero. Qualifying rounds for our team will be heating up over the next few months.".

To quote the late great Freddy Mercury, "Another one bites the dust!" Yes 2011 came and went just like that. My parents told me that time seems to pass more quickly the older you get. A horrifying thought for the future.

The 2011-2012 year was no less challenging than the previous three and many of our counterparts are really feeling the pinch. This for some clubs means diminishing membership, diminishing turnover and tiring premises and furnishings. It's the old "Rock and a Hard Place". I'm very pleased to report that, despite the difficulties, our General Manager Richard Shrubsall has kept us at the head of the pack once again!(or is that still?) Our premises are maintained to the very highest standards, as are our furnishings. The inside of the club was repainted and wallpapered and new carpet was laid. More televisions have been upgraded and we continue to provide facilities the envy of most clubs in the country. As a result our membership remains firm at around 6300. If and when the world economy makes any sort of meaningful recovery, we will be perfectly positioned to prosper.

It is your executive committee's feeling that it is evermore important to attract and retain younger members to ensure the long term success of the club. With this in mind it is our intention to put a proposal at AGM around the drinking of RTD's and beers from small bottles and cans. Times have changed and perhaps we should change with the times. We are not suggesting a compromise around standards of behaviour, but to allow drinking from the bottle which is now widely accepted around NZ and the world!! This is a house rule matter and we could make the change without the approval of AGM. However we invite discussion and seek approval to trial the change with a proviso that if it were to result in an undesirable change in behaviour that the executive and management would revert to the previous rule. If you have strong feelings either way about this proposal I suggest you attend the AGM! Don't kick up after the event.

The bi-ennial charity day fundraiser was held in October 2011 in aid of Multiple Sclerosis. A great day was had and $19,000 was raised. Congratulations to Vice President, Terry Ryan, who organised the event, and thanks to management, staff, executive members and volunteers for their fine effort. A fire in our building adjacent to the restaurant resulted in total loss of the rear unit of that building. Fortunately we were fully covered by insurance including for "loss of rental" so no negative financial impact. We now need to consider what is required in terms of reinstatement or otherwise. This will be a task for the incoming executive.

This has been the last year of V8 Supercars-Hamilton. Whilst the event may have been quite spectacular for the weekend on which it was run, the impact on the Hamilton Workingmen's Club was less than spectacular and will not be terribly missed.

Gary Meyrick elected to retire from executive duties and did not stand for re-election after14 years on the executive, the last 9 of those as Treasurer. Thanks Gary for your contribution over the 14 years. Gary was first elected to the executive in June 1997, just a year after our relocation from Harwood Street. He was subsequently elected to the position of Treasurer in June 2002 after the death of Robin Riley earlier the same year. Gary was unopposed at that and all subsequent elections until retiring. Gary developed a very close working relationship with GM, Richard Shrubsall, as had Robin Riley before him. Together they worked well as a team. Thanks for your efforts Gary. Gary's great sense of humour and genuine concern for the club and its members will be missed at executive level. I have no doubt however that he will continue to frequent the club for many years to come.

My thanks to Vice President-Terry Ryan, Treasurer- Peter Lee and the rest of the executive team for their efforts on your behalf during the year. Your efforts are greatly appreciated, perhaps not always acknowledged.

With regret we note the passing of a number of members during the year. Our thoughts are with the Family and friends of those.

AGM will begin at 10.00 am on Sunday June 10th. I look forward to your attendance.

TRIBUTE TO DECEASED MEMBERS:

A moment of silence was observed as a tribute to members who had passed away during the year.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT AND FINANCIAL STATEMENTS:

B Simpson started his address to the members by mentioning that he hoped they had all received their yearbook publication and had read his report. He stated that although the financial accounts showed a small loss - not the first in the last few years - it really is insignificant in comparison to what other Clubs of a similar size and nature are dealing with in these times. He stated that once again what he writes in his report is a true profit and loss account rather than a negative cash flow so what that shows is that we actually made guite a lot of money but we have made allowance in our accounts for the fact that some of our assets will diminish in value over time. The significant improvements to the Club are evidence that we are doing well and continue to do so. Unfortunately John Nicholls our accountant is ill today but it would be fair to say that John's services have been thoroughly underutilized over recent years in that the Club is run in such a fashion that we don't tend to have questions arising that we can't answer ourselves. B Simpson assured the members that John Nicholls as the Club's Accountant is very happy with the way we have operated over the last 12 months as he has been over the last 15 years. He also stated that we have the backing of our bankers, solicitors and our auditors whom all feel the Hamilton Workingmen's Club is in very good hands and when the economy takes an upswing we will be well poised to take advantage and recover some of the money we haven't made over the last few years - bearing in mind that the making of money is not the be all and end all of what the Club is here for it is only so that we can provide facilities and services for our members and that is always our first concern.

Once again we have had success amongst the various subsections of the Club and B Simpson stated he had mentioned some of those in his report. He also stated that in these difficult financial times it became apparent that some subsections are in a very good financial position in comparison to the main Club so we have looked at where they are gaining their funds from. It was then decided that the Executive committee be allocated raffle bar weeks for two reasons. The first is to get the Executive out on the floor and in amongst the members so that the members can get to know the Executive and vice versa. The second to relieve the main trading account of some of the expenditure incurred by attendance at Clubs NZ Conferences or area meetings during the course of the year. This should mean a decrease in expenditure by the Executive in the next financial year. B Simpson stated that he sees this year as being one of success and certainly talking to his counterparts we are amongst the best performing Clubs in the country.

MOTION: That the President's Report for 2010-2011 be accepted as circulated and received.

Seconded: B McLachlan (0935)

.....CARRIED

B Simpson stated that in the absence of Gary Meyrick (Treasurer) he would report on his behalf. Bar trading is down a little on last year – Gaming a slight increase – most of the major expense categories were in hand all be it that they are still very significant. If we refer to such things as the courtesy vehicles - which have made a loss as with other years that we have discussed them – it becomes difficult to know what the actual cost of that van service could be if we didn't have it – we may save a hundred thousand dollars a year by not running it but then we lose five hundred thousand dollars in turnover – it is one of those unknowns in a business like ours. The other factor is to maintain our role as responsible hosts.

G Meyrick's departing comments to B Simpson were that he has enjoyed his time in its entirety on the Executive Committee and he is very proud of the state of the Club as he departs as Treasurer.

MOTION: That the Treasurer's Report and Financial statements for 2010-2011 be accepted as a true and correct record of the Club's financial position.

Moved: B Simpson (007)	Seconded: W Pearce (0690)

B Simpson briefly explained to those present the procedure for listing items for General Business at this stage of the meeting and how these matters would be dealt with later during the course of the meeting. He explained that club members could then enter into discussions on the matter's raised.

To the members of Hamilton Workingmen's Club Incorporated

We have audited the accompanying special purpose financial statements of Hamilton Workingmen's Club Incorporated ("the incorporated society") on pages 4 to 22. The special purpose financial statements comprise the special purpose statement of financial position as at 31 March 2012, the special purpose statement of financial performance, special purpose statement of movements in general funds and special purpose statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information. The special purpose financial statements have been prepared based on the stated accounting policies.

Executive Committee's responsibility for the special purpose financial statements

The Executive Committee is responsible for the preparation of these special purpose financial statements, in accordance with the stated accounting policies, and for such internal control as the Executive Committee determines is necessary to enable the preparation of special purpose financial statements that are free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special purpose financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (New Zealand). Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special purpose financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the special purpose financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the special purpose financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the incorporated society's preparation of the special purpose financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the incorporated society's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates, as well as evaluating the presentation of the special purpose financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Other than in our capacity as auditor we have no relationship with, or interests in, the incorporated society.

Opinion

In our opinion the special purpose financial statements of Hamilton Workingmen's Club Incorporated on pages 4 to 22 for the year ended 31 March 2012 are prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the stated accounting policies.

Ρ
P

(e) Income Tax
