

PRESENTERS

Maria Dew QC, Barrister, Britomart Chambers, Auckland

Maria has a specialist practice in employment law, professional misconduct matters and related civil litigation. She acts for employers and employees, providing a full range of advocacy and advice. Maria is currently President Elect of the New Zealand Bar Association and a Past Convenor of the New Zealand Employment Law Committee. She is also a Deputy Chair of the Health Practitioners Disciplinary Tribunal, an Investigator and Mediator Panel Member with the Sports and Recreation Dispute Resolution Service and an AMINZ certified mediator.

Stephen Langton, Partner, LangtonHudsonButcher, Auckland

Stephen is a specialist employment law and industrial relations practitioner at LangtonHudsonButcher, a niche employment law firm in Auckland. As well as being a trusted advisor, he has been involved in a number of significant cases in this area. Stephen has particular interests in employment litigation and advocacy, fiduciary duties and duties of fidelity in the employment context, team moves, confidential information and restraints of trade, the employment institutions' jurisdiction, and minimum entitlement claims. He is a former member of the NZLS Employment Law Committee, and a regular contributor to NZLS CLE.

The statements and conclusions contained in this presentation are those of the author(s) only and not those of the New Zealand Law Society. This presentation has been prepared for the purpose of a Continuing Legal Education course. It is not intended to be a comprehensive statement of the law or practice, and should not be relied upon as such. If advice on the law is required, it should be sought on a formal, professional basis.
