

PRESENTERS

Simon Hamilton, Barrister, St Nesbit Chambers, Auckland

Simon practises in all areas of commercial and civil litigation. He has particular skill in professional liability and discipline, fiduciary obligations, and the law governing solicitor/client relationships. Simon has advised both insurers and professionals on the defence of a substantial number of high value solicitor's negligence claims and New Zealand Law Society investigations. In that regard, he is well placed to provide the modern practitioner with practical, well thought out advice on preventing professional indemnity claims from arising in the first place, and then on the defence and successful resolution of claims when things go wrong.

Harshad Shiba, Director, Quantum Law Ltd, Auckland

Harshad acts predominantly for SMEs and their owners. He often confronts potential conflict situations as many of the transactions which he is asked to attend on have multiple, and often competing, interests. Accordingly, Harshad has a wealth of useful advice on identifying and avoiding conflicts and managing client interests when they do arise.
