

PRESENTER

Ben Keith, Thorndon Chambers, Wellington

Ben's principal fields of expertise are in administrative, constitutional, human rights and public international law, with significant appearances at all levels of the New Zealand court system and in international fora. He has most recently served as the first Deputy Inspector-General of Intelligence and Security (2014-2017). Ben is a member of the New Zealand Law Society Public and Administrative Law committee.

The statements and conclusions contained in this paper are those of the author(s) only and not those of the New Zealand Law Society. This booklet has been prepared for the purpose of a Continuing Legal Education course. It is not intended to be a comprehensive statement of the law or practice, and should not be relied upon as such. If advice on the law is required, it should be sought on a formal, professional basis.
