

PRESENTER

Jamie Nunns, Morrison Kent, Wellington

Jamie has been a member of Morrison Kent since 2001 and has specialised in property law throughout his legal career. His property law experience has seen him acting for some of New Zealand's largest and most respected organisations in relation to a vast range of property related matters of varying degrees of complexity. Jamie has been involved with some of New Zealand's best known property developments and projects, and he enjoys working with organisations of all different sizes from multi-nationals to individually owned and run small businesses.
