

PRESENTER

Andrea Manuel, Barrister, Auckland

Andrea's practice covers complex, multi-party and high net-worth trust and relationship property cases. Andrea appears in the Court of Appeal, High Court and Family Court. She has considerable experience in acting in estate claims and general civil litigation arising from the family law context, such as professional negligence claims, or claims in equity, contract and tort. She provides advice by way of formal opinion, and is frequently instructed to become involved in challenging cases which require her particular expertise. Andrea is also involved in spousal maintenance, child support, domestic violence, and Hague Convention and other child-related work.
