

PRESENTERS

Helen Johnson, Chapman Tripp, Auckland

Helen is an experienced tax practitioner, with expertise in advising multinational corporations on their international tax affairs, including cross border transactions and corporate structures. She returned to Chapman Tripp in May 2015 as a Senior Associate after working at Clifford Chance in London for nine years.

David Johnston, Fonterra, Auckland

David is in-house tax counsel, with responsibility for Asia, the Middle East and Africa. He was previously European Head of Tax at Oaktree Capital Management in London. He also spent seven years as a Senior Manager for EY London where he advised a range of multinational clients on their international tax affairs and disputes with fiscal authorities.

The statements and conclusions contained in this paper are those of the author(s) only and not those of the New Zealand Law Society.
