

PRESENTERS

Graham Murray, Bell Gully, Auckland

Graham is a partner in Bell Gully's Auckland based tax division and advises on all aspects of corporate and personal tax.

Casey Plunket, Inland Revenue, Wellington

Casey was a tax lawyer in private practice for 30 years before joining Inland Revenue as a policy advisor in 2015. He is now busy making the world a better place, particularly in relation to the taxation of cross border financial arrangements and employee share schemes.

CONTENTS

PRICE ALLOCATION ISSUES IN BUSINESS ASSET SALES	1
INTRODUCTION	1
WHY ALLOCATION MATTERS	2
An example	2
Generalising from the example	3
The special case of depreciable property.....	4
Concluding remarks on the significance of allocation for tax.....	5
STATUTORY RULES ON ALLOCATION.....	5
Trading stock.....	5
Financial arrangements	6
Depreciable property	6
Concluding comments on statutory rules	6
Market value.....	7
NO STATUTORY RULES.....	9
No documented allocation.....	9
Agreed allocation	10
Concluding remarks on the existence of other constraints.....	15
PRACTICAL BENEFITS AND COSTS OF A DOCUMENTED ALLOCATION.....	16
Benefits from a documented allocation	16
Costs of a documented allocation.....	17
COMMISSIONER CHALLENGES TO PURCHASE PRICE ALLOCATIONS.....	18
Valuation is not an exact science	18
Return to the business sale example	18
Concluding remarks on valuation dynamics	19
LAW REFORM POSSIBILITIES.....	19
CONCLUSION	20