

PRESENTER

Tony Hammington, Rabobank NZ, Invercargill

Tony has been Rabobank NZ's Succession Facilitator since 2008. The role aims to help families improve clarity of their goals, plan to collectively realise business potential and improve confidence about each generation's financial security. He has over 30 years experience working for rural banks and insurance companies. Tony has experience across many commodities and products, and a wide perspective of family businesses.
