

PRESENTER

Lisa Hansen, Barrister, Wellington

Lisa Hansen has been a barrister sole since February 2010. She has a background in public law and was a Crown Counsel at Crown Law from 1997 to January 2010. She undertakes a wide variety of general civil litigation, employment, resource management, medico-legal and opinion work. Lisa has advised a range of clients on all stages of the consultation process, including advising clients engaging in the process as a consultee on how to best present their interests or concerns. She has also appeared as counsel in judicial review proceedings where consultation was in issue, including Anning v Minister of Education and Butler v Attorney General.

The statements and conclusions contained in this booklet are those of the author only and not those of the New Zealand Law Society. This booklet has been prepared for the purpose of a Continuing Legal Education course. It is not intended to be a comprehensive statement of the law or practice, and should not be relied upon as such. If advice on the law is required, it should be sought on a formal, professional basis.
