

PRESENTERS

Bronwyn Arthur, Crown Law Office, Wellington

Bronwyn is the team leader of the Natural Resources Team. Prior to joining CLO eight years ago, she was a senior solicitor at the Ministry for the Environment. Bronwyn provided advice, particularly on RMA matters, to the Foreshore and Seabed Group of the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet during the development of the Foreshore and Seabed Bill.

Paul McHugh, Fellow – Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge University, England

Last year Paul became the first Ashley McHugh Ngai Tahu Visiting Professor of Law at Victoria University of Wellington. He is internationally regarded as the foremost authority on the application of common law Aboriginal title to the New Zealand setting and was a presenter of the 2004 NZLS seminar The Foreshore and Seabed. Paul's book, Aboriginal Societies and the Common Law, has just been published by OUP.

Camilla Owen, Duncan Cotterill, Nelson

Camilla specialises in environmental law, centring on resource management. She has appeared on numerous occasions before councils, as well as appearing before the High Court and Court of Appeal. Her career has been focused in an area of New Zealand where the resource management issues are varied and complex. She is the Treasurer of the Resource Management Law Association of New Zealand and is a member of the NZLS Environmental Law Committee.

The statements and conclusions contained in this booklet are those of the author(s) only and not those of the New Zealand Law Society. This booklet has been prepared for the purpose of a Continuing Legal Education course. It is not intended to be a comprehensive statement of the law or practice, and should not be relied upon as such. If advice on the law is required, it should be sought on a formal, professional basis.
