

Summary of contents

Foreword	v
Summary of contents	xi
Contents	xiii
Note	xviii
Authors	xix
Introduction	xxv
Chapter 1	Theory of the case	1
	Les Taylor, with revisions by Paul Radich
Chapter 2	Conduct of an advocate	11
	Christine Grice, Philip Morgan, with revisions by Simon Mount
Chapter 3	Pre-trial issues – criminal	53
	Christine Gordon and Natalie Walker
Chapter 4	Pre-trial issues – civil	79
	Lyn Stevens and Andrew Beck
Chapter 5	The jury	113
	John Billington
Chapter 6	Preparation for trial	129
	Paul Radich
Chapter 7	Opening the case	155
	John Fogarty and Barbara Morris
Chapter 8	Examination-in-chief	199
	Tim Brewer and Terry Stapleton, with revisions by Simon Mount
Chapter 9	Cross-examination	241
	Nigel Hampton and John Wild, with revisions by Graham Lang
Chapter 10	Re-examination	275
	Craig Ruane
Chapter 11	Objections	285
	Colin Carruthers
Chapter 12	Expert witnesses	293
	Gerard Curry
Chapter 13	Exhibits	319
	Stephen O’Driscoll
Chapter 14	Closing address	351
	Raynor Asher and Kieran Raftery
Chapter 15	Post-trial issues – criminal	387
	June Jelas
Chapter 16	Post-trial issues – civil	393
	Les Taylor, with revisions by Andrew Beck
Chapter 17	Appeals	399
	John Pike, Robert Chambers and Colin Pike, with revisions by Simon Mount (criminal), Andrew Beck (civil) and Colin Fife
Table of statutes, professional rules, other rules and regulations, practice notes, and cases		435
Index		447

Contents

Foreword	v
Summary of contents	xi
Contents	xiii
Note	xviii
Authors	xix
Introduction	xxv
Chapter 1. The theory of the case	1
What is the “theory of the case”? 1
Developing the theory of the case 2
Using the theory of the case 8
Chapter 2. Conduct of an advocate	11
Professional obligations 11
Conduct guidelines 12
Juniors’ duties 19
In the courtroom 20
Instructing solicitors 34
Running your case 35
The special duties of a prosecutor 38
Procedures and practice notes 39
Criminal advocacy 40
Chapter 3. Pre-trial issues – criminal	53
Taking instructions 54
Consideration of bail 55
Consideration of name suppression 56
Assessment of defence 56
Election 59
Case management and case review 60
Procedures and protocols in relation to expert witness evidence 63
Oral evidence orders 65
Section 103-107 applications – alternative ways of giving evidence 66
Pre-trial orders relating to admissibility of evidence 67

Section 147 applications: discharge of a defendant	71
Presentation of pre-trial argument	73
Other pre-trial issues or applications	77
Chapter 4. Pre-trial issues – civil	79
Pre-trial considerations	80
Alternative dispute resolution	90
Preparation of pleadings	92
Particular types of civil proceedings	99
Proceedings from the defendant/respondent perspective	106
Reviewing pleadings	109
Chapter 5. The jury	113
Why trial by jury?	113
Jury selection	115
Procedures concerning jury during trial	119
What makes a jury listen?	122
Running your case	123
The difference between a judge-alone and a jury trial	127
Chapter 6. Preparation for trial	129
Fundamentals	129
The five folders and a trial book	133
Folder 1 – Correspondence and background	134
Folder 2 – Pleadings	135
Folder 3 – The trial folder	135
Folder 4 – Common bundles of documents	149
Folder 5 – Authorities	151
Trial book	152
Chapter 7. Opening the case	155
Criminal trials	156
Purpose	156
Structure	157
Tools to enhance persuasiveness	167
Specific considerations for defence	170

Content	171
Rules	172
Presenting an oral address	174
The defence opening statement	176
Judge-alone trial	177
Civil trials	180
Written synopsis	182
Oral address	190
Chapter 8. Examination-in-chief		199
Purpose	199
Rules	200
Organisation and structure	204
Questioning techniques	214
Witnesses who do not say what they are supposed to say	231
Chapter 9. Cross-examination		241
Purpose	241
Rules	244
Control	248
Preparation and structure	249
Conducting your cross-examination	252
Impeachment – prior inconsistent statements	267
Chapter 10. Re-examination		275
Purpose	277
Rules	281
Briefing your witness	282
Good re-examination	283
Judges' questions	283
Chapter 11. Objections		285
Why object? Why not?	286
How to object	288
What can you object to?	289
Objections other than to evidence	290

Chapter 12. Expert witnesses	293
Purpose and nature of expert evidence	293
Selecting and testing the expert	299
Rules of practice	301
Pre-trial procedures	302
Obligations of the expert	303
Counsel's obligations	305
Knowing and using expert evidence	306
Briefing the expert	307
Examination-in-chief of the expert	312
Cross-examination	313
Re-examination	316
Chapter 13. Exhibits	319
What is an exhibit?	319
Who produces the exhibit?	322
Preparation of exhibits for the trial	325
Evidential considerations	325
Laying the foundation	331
Chapter 14. Closing address	351
Criminal trials	352
Jury trials	352
Structure	354
Content	359
Presentation	366
Prosecution	368
Defence	370
A word about IT	373
Judge-alone trials	374
Civil trials	375
Purpose	375
Preparation	376
Content and structure	377
The oral presentation	382

Chapter 15. Post-trial issues – criminal	387
The decision	387
Appeals – general	389
Appeal	390
Debriefing your client	391
16. Post-trial issues – civil	393
Reading the judgment	393
Briefing the client	393
Errors or omissions	394
Sealing the judgment	395
Appeals	396
Security for costs of appeal	397
Chapter 17. Appeals	399
Criminal appeals	399
The right to an appeal	399
Should I appeal?	401
Commencing an appeal	402
Points on appeal	403
The written case	406
A word about discretionary judgments	408
Oral argument	409
Specialised appeals	412
Appeals to the Supreme Court	415
Civil appeals	418
Should I appeal?	419
Can I appeal?	420
Getting the appeal under way	422
Written submissions	427
Bundle of authorities	429
Courtroom etiquette	430
The hearing itself	430
Costs	433
Table of statutes, professional rules, other rules and regulations, practice notes, and cases	435
Index	447