

Protecting your business client from trading risks

PART 1: MARKETING LAW

A. Fair Trading Act 1986 ("FTA")	1
Framework of the FTA	1
Introduction	1
Application of the FTA	2
Extra-territorial effect	2
Prohibited conduct	3
False representations	3
Specific unfair practices	3
Section 9 of the Fair Trading Act	4
Summary	4
Three stage test in s 9 claims	5
"In trade"	5
"Misleading" or "deceptive" conduct	6
Standard for assessing whether conduct is misleading or deceptive	7
Advertisements, labelling and packaging	7
Predictions, promises and opinions	7
Misleading or deceptive conduct under the FTA – Criminal Offences and Civil Liability	8
Misleading or deceptive conduct in relation to goods	8
Services	9
Employment	9
False representations	10
Price	11
Supply of land	11
Consumer information and safety standards	12
Other unfair practices in trade	12
Misleading incentives	12
Bait advertising	13
Referral selling	13
Demanding payment	13
Pyramid schemes	13
Third party liability	14
Directors and employees	15
Private individuals	15
Jurisdiction	16
Disputes Tribunals	16

District Court	16
High Court	16
Enforcement	16
Criminal offences and fines	17
Civil remedies	17
Damages	18
Injunctions	20
Limitation period	21
Statutory defences	22
Reasonable mistake	22
Reasonable reliance on information supplied by a third party	23
Events beyond the defendant's control	23
Publishers defences for advertisements	24
Defence to proceedings for consumer information contraventions	24
Defences available to news media	24
Reducing the risks for traders under the Fair Trading Act	24
In-house compliance programmes	24
Limiting risk by Contract	25
FTA cannot be excluded by contract	25
Disclaimers	26
Acknowledgment clauses	26
Some recent cases	27
Financial projections	27
Directors' personal liability	27
Liquidators liability "in trade"	27
Generic descriptions	27
Internet domain names	28
B. Buying and selling goods	29
Introduction: the Sale of Goods Act	29
Incorporation of terms	29
The implied terms	30
Price (s 10)	30
Title (s 14)	31
Correspondence with description (s 15)	31
Fitness for purpose (s 16(a))	31
Merchantable quality (s 16(b))	32
Terms implied by trade usage and express terms (s 16(c))	32
Correspondence with sample (s 17)	32
Delivery	32
Risk	33
Title	33

Retention of title	34
Buyer's rights	36
Seller's rights	37
Contracting out	38
Liability of manufacturer, third party liability, the SOGA and the CGA	38
C. The Consumer Guarantees Act 1993	39
Overview	39
Application of the CGA	39
Broad definition of "supply"	40
Guarantees for goods	40
Suppliers' guarantees for goods	41
Manufacturers' guarantees	42
Consumers' remedies against suppliers of goods	43
Guarantees for services	44
Consumers' remedies against service suppliers	44
Independent statutory rights	44
Liability to third parties	45
Claims against third parties	46
Scope of the CGA	47
"Consumer"	47
"Goods"	48
"Services"	49
Special issues relating to the building industry	50
Durability under the Consumer Guarantees Act and the Building Act 1991	51
Services and housing	52
Choice in exercising CGA remedies	53
Consumers' choice of defendants	53
Financiers' liabilities under the CGA	53
No statutory indemnities between suppliers and manufacturers	55
Traders' choices of remedies	56
Risks to traders	57
Misleading consumers as to their rights	57
Failing to resolve disputes promptly	58
Exposure to liability for business losses	60
Conclusion	61
D. Restrictive trade practices	62
Introduction	62
Categories of restrictive trade practice	62
Contract	63
Arrangement	63
Understanding	63

Market	64
Pecuniary penalties under the Commerce Act	64
Magnitude	64
Nature of penalties	65
Proposed penalty regime: the Commerce Amendment Bill 1999	66
Potential defendants	67
Price fixing	68
Resale price maintenance	70
Types of conduct	70
Recommended retail prices	71
No general prohibition on refusal to deal	72
Exclusionary conduct	72
Other statutory exceptions	73
Authorisations	74
Conclusion	75
E. Credit law	76
The Hire Purchase Act	76
Hire purchase agreements	76
What is a hire purchase agreement?	76
Formalities	77
Termination	78
Repossession	78
Selling repossessed goods	79
Contracting out	80
Credit Contracts Act 1981 ("CCA")	80
Oppressive credit contracts	81
Registration of Security Interests	82
PART 2: WHEN THINGS GO WRONG
A. Introduction	83
B. Contractual Remedies Act 1979	84
Introduction	84
The elements of an actionable misrepresentation	84
Section 6 Contractual Remedies Act 1979: elements of an actionable misrepresentation	85
The four essentials	85
The first essential: there was a misrepresentation	85
The meaning of misrepresentation	85
Silence does not constitute misrepresentation	87
The second essential: the misrepresentation was made by, or on behalf of, another party	88
The third essential: the misrepresentation was made to the plaintiff	89
The fourth essential: the misrepresentation induced the plaintiff to enter the	89

contract
Inducement generally	89
The representation need not be the sole inducement	89
Damages	90
Section 6 of the Contractual Remedies Act 1979	90
Cancellation	92
Section 7 of the Contractual Remedies Act 1979 is a code	92
Cancellation for repudiation	92
Clear intention not to perform	92
Cancellation for misrepresentation, breach, or anticipatory breach	93
Affirmation	94
Notice of cancellation: rules applying	94
The effects of cancellation: cancellation operates as to the future	94
Section 8(3)(a) of the Contractual Remedies Act 1979	95
Section 8(3)(b) of the Contractual Remedies Act 1979	95
Relief: section 9 of the Contractual Remedies Act 1979	95
Relief available to the Court	95
The scope of the power	95
Recovery of damages	96
Application of the Contractual Remedies Act 1979	96
Savings	97
Relationship with the Sale of Goods Act 1908	97
Other enactments	98
C. Contractual Mistakes Act 1977	99
Introduction	99
The definition of mistake	99
Three types of mistake	100
Section 6(1)(a)(i): unilateral mistake	100
Section 6(1)(a)(ii): common mistake	100
Section 6(1)(a)(iii): mutual mistakes	101
Other requirements for relief (s 6)	101
Substantial inequality of value	101
Risk assumed by agreement	102
Relief	103
Mistakes not recognised by the Act	104
Mistakes about an event	104
Ignorance	104
Mistakes in interpreting a document	104
Mistakes anticipated by the contract	105
D. Risks after contracting	106
Voidable transactions	106

Section 292 Companies Act 1993	106
"Ordinary course of business"	106
Cases on "ordinary course of business"	108
Discretion to refuse relief	111
Inequitable to award a recovery	113
Procedural points	114
Conclusion	114
Voidable transactions flow chart	116
E. Other contract issues	117
Non est factum	117
Illegality	117
PART 3: MISCELLANEOUS
A. Tips and reminders	119
Who are the contracting parties?	119
Assigning a debt	119
Guarantees	119
Liability of Directors	120
"Costs clause" and "terms of trade"	120
Agreements to mortgage: interest in land	121
When things go wrong, watch for:	121
Exclusion clauses	121
Watch for statutory intervention controlling exclusion clauses	122
Acceptance rules	122
Letters of comfort	122
Employing staff	123
Motor Vehicles	123
Privacy Act	123
Doing business outside New Zealand	123
B. Terms of trade checklist	124
Appendix 1: Commerce Commission Booklets	129
Commerce Act	129
Fair Trading Act	129
Appendix 2: Legislation to consider in trading	131
Bibliography	137