

PRESENTERS

Sylvia Bell, Human Rights Commission, Auckland

Formerly the senior legal officer at the Office of the Race Relations Conciliator, Sylvia is the general editor of Brookers Human Rights Law and a contributing author of the section on the Human Rights Act. She is the co-author of Brookers Family Law – Incapacity and Mental Health Law in New Zealand which received the JF Northey Memorial Award for legal writing.

Charles Chauvel, Regulations Review Committee, New Zealand Parliament, Wellington

Prior to entering Parliament Charles clerked for Chief Justice Eichelbaum, was legal officer for what is now the Service Workers' Union and worked for four years as Crown counsel in the Crown Law Office. He then became a partner in the Minter Ellison Legal Group in Wellington and Sydney. Charles has held a number of director ships and has written extensively, in particular on employment law.

Katrine Evans, Office of the Privacy Commissioner, Wellington

Katrine is the assistant commissioner (legal and policy) at the Office of the Privacy Commissioner. She worked at the Faculty of Law, Victoria University of Wellington from 1995-2004, specialising in privacy, tort and media law, and moved to the Commissioner's office in August 2004. She is the Privacy Commissioner's chief legal counsel, and also manages the communications, policy and technology functions of the Office.

Emma Leach, Office of the Ombudsmen, Wellington

Emma joined the Office in 1996 and worked as an investigator for over 10 years, undertaking a wide variety of investigations under both the Ombudsmen Act and the Official Information Act. She now provides specialist advice and training to government agencies on issues which concern the Ombudsmen, and in-house policy and professional practice advice, guidance and training for the Office.

The statements and conclusions contained in this booklet are those of the author(s) only and not those of the New Zealand Law Society. This booklet has been prepared for the purpose of a Continuing Legal Education course. It is not intended to be a comprehensive statement of the law or practice, and should not be relied upon as such. If advice on the law is required, it should be sought on a formal, professional basis.

David McGee CNZM QC, Office of the Ombudsmen, Wellington

David joined Parliament's Office of the Clerk in 1974 and was appointed Clerk of the House of Representatives in 1985. He is the author of Parliamentary Practice in New Zealand, and has written extensively in the area of parliamentary and constitutional studies. He was appointed a QC in 2000, was awarded a CNZM in 2002, and was made a Doctor of Laws in 2009. David was appointed an Ombudsman in November 2007.

Paul Radich, Minter Ellison Rudd Watts, Wellington

Paul is a litigation partner in Minter Ellison Rudd Watts, specialising in public law. He is an author of textbooks, commentaries and articles on public law and courtroom advocacy and has conducted seminars and workshops in those areas for the Law Society for some years.

Nicola White, Office of the Auditor-General, Wellington

Nicola is head of the legal team at the Office of the Auditor-General. She has particular responsibility for managing the conduct of inquiries carried out by the Auditor-General. Prior to this, Nicola was a senior research fellow at the Institute of Policy Studies in the School of Government at Victoria University. She has also worked as a legal and policy adviser over the last 15 years, including in the Cabinet Office and the Policy Advisory Group of the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet.
